HILL MYSTIFIED; FOREIGN OFFICE REPORTS DENIAL

Ambassador to France Has Done Nothing to Incur Enmity of German Empire.

Lokal Anzeiger, of Berlin,
Prints Official Statement.

NO EXPLANATION IS COMING

Berlin, March 27.—The foreign office today issued a statement that the kaiser never said or wrote a word that could be interpreted as an objection to Dr. Hill's appointment as ambassador.

Local papers are full of the ambassadorship controversy. The Tageblatt views the affair as an attempt to discredit Hill and condemn what it terms an "intrigue." It considers Tower's recall imminent. All papers agree that Hill will be the ambassador.

Ambassador Tower authorized the statement this afternoon that he is resolved to resign "within a few months."

Pure Invention.

Berlin, March 27.—The Lokal Anzeiger prints a statement evidently emanating from the foreign office regarding David J. Hill. It denies the report cable from Washington that a letter is under way from the German government explaining its attitude, and concludes:

"Germany is by no means placed in a situation where explanations are needed, because no differences of opinion whatever in this question exist between Berlin and Washington. It is superfluous to add that the assertion that Hill has become persona non grata since his appointment is pure invention."

Paris, March 27.—In the absence of official confirmation either from Washington or Berlin, David Jayne Hill declined to credit or discuss the report that the German government had changed its original attitude and refused to receive him as ambassador. The only information he received on the subject was a private telegram from Berlin saying that the German foreign office has flatly denied that any official action had been taken.

It is learned that Minister Hill is considerably disturbed and mystified by the whole circumstances, as he is aware of nothing either at the Hague conference, or during Prince Henry's visit to Washington that could form a basis for the objection to him as American ambassador.

After Prince Henry's visit to Washington, the prince presented to Hill, who was then assistant secretary of state, a large photograph of himself, inscribed with his autograph, as a testimonial of his thanks.

School Man Dies.

St. Louis, March 27.—F. Louis Soidan, superintendent of the public schools and one of the best known educators in the country, dropped dead on the street today.

ALLEGED INFRINGEMENT

Alleging that the firm of A. M. Laevison & company, of Paducah, put up a drink in fraudulent imitation of "Dr. Pepper," the Artesian Manufacturing and Bottling company, of Waco, Texas, today filed suit in circuit court against the Paducah firm for $20,000 damages. The Texas firm claims that it is the owner and originator of the drink and had a large sale on it in this section until the Paducah firm began to put up an imitation, using a bottle and label similar to the genuine.

ROBBED POSTOFFICE

COLORFUL FAMILIES LEAVING MARSHALL

The steamer Kentucky brought in from Marshall county seventeen colored families and their household goods. In all about 100 colored people got off the Kentucky when she arrived from the Tennessee this morning. These are some of the colored people that received notice to leave several weeks ago. Most of them are located in this city and a few went to Brookport and Metropolis to live.

Saloon License of G. A. Chandler, Ninth Street and Kentucky Ave. is Revoked by Mayor J. P. Smith.

Trial in Police Court This Morning on Charge of Sunday
Selling Results in Conviction and Nominal Fine.

After it had been demonstrated to a certainty that Mayor Smith, Solicitor Campbell and Charles K. Wheeler had evidence sufficient to secure a conviction, the defense in the case against G. A. Chandler for selling whisky on Sunday and suffering gaming, threw up the sponge and hastily acceded to the terms of the prosecution to pay a fine, surrender his license at Ninth street and Kentucky avenue and quit business.

The agreement came after the jury empaneled to try Chandler returned a verdict in a few minutes after they retired, finding Chandler guilty and fixing the punishment at a fine of $50, which was the most that could be imposed under the statute. Under the agreement the verdict was set aside and Chandler was fined $20 in the second case against him and he agreed to quit business. The charge of suffering gaming was dismissed.

Croal Held Over.

John Croal, who was charged with setting up the game, which is a felony, waived examination and was held to the grand jury, the witnesses being recognized to appear against him on the fourth day of the April term of court.

On his agreement to leave town for a year the case was retired. If he returns and gambles it will be opened.

The trial of the cases brought out the largest crowds that ever attended a police court trial. The juries have been made up of representative business men and citizens and there were faces on the juries and among the spectators not often seen around court rooms.

After the result had become known in the Chandler case, hundreds of good citizens expressed their approval of the course of the mayor and congratulated him.

Chandler, who was on trial this morning, is well appearing. He comes of a good family and has not been in the business long. From his expressions this afternoon he will not soon engage in such a business again. The place he ran is in the building adjoining the place run by Ella Howe, and is conveniently situated for Sunday selling, gambling, etc.

As in the case against Tseo, Peter,

MANY WITNESSES APPEAR BEFORE THE MARSHALL COUNTY GRAND JURY TODAY

Missing Men From Lyon County Have Good Excuses For Failure to Attend—Equity
Men Present.

Five indictments were returned at Benton for night riding.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Benton, March 27.—More witnesses were called before the grand jury to answer questions, and late this afternoon it is expected that a report will be made when Judge William Reed arrives from Paducah. John Fox, residing five miles from Kuttawa, in Lyon county, and one of the men missed last Wednesday after being summoned by Deputy United States Marshall Neel, appeared and answered questions. To The Sun's reporter Fox said that his horse had gotten out.

Fred Wilcox, another man summoned from Lyon county, has not reported today, but Fox said that Wilcox's relatives are seriously ill, and he is unable to get away. Dr. Champ, of Lyon county, was summoned to come, but he telephoned Peter Eley, sheriff of Marshall county, that he would appear before the grand jury this afternoon.

Five men were summoned from Gilbertsville today. Willis Tetway, Walter Vickers, William Noles, George Banks and Henry Noles. All are members of the American Society of Equity. Willis Tetway said he was not been in any raids and does not know any of the "night riders," who are alleged to have left warning notices at Gilbertsville March 14. All of the men are responsible farmers, and it is said that they are not accused of taking part in any "night riding," but to question them and see the evidence against Chandler was given by Detectives McDonald and Boone, and in effect was that they bought whisky and beer from Chandler at his place of business last Sunday.

The first interesting happening in connection with the case was in selecting the jury. After Attorney Corbett, who represented Chandler, had exhausted his three challenges he insisted that James Rouse, a contractor carpenter, who had been accepted by the prosecution, should be discharged inasmuch as Corbett had challenged him before he knew his challenges had been exhausted. Judge Cross refused to discharge Mr. Rouse and the trial proceeded.

After the testimony of the detectives was given Chandler took the stand in his own defense and denied selling to the detectives on Sunday. He swore that John Croal, W. C. Sanford, James Smith and others were in the saloon all the time he was there from 9 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the evening.

W. C. Sanford, who operates the restaurant in the rear of the saloon, testified that he worked all night the night before and did not go to his place of business until afternoon and was not there at the time the detectives are alleged to have bought the whisky. Chandler and all the others who testified for the defense swore that Sanford was in the room.

James Smith, who is alleged to have been the lookout for the poker room, testified that he was in the saloon all day, that Chandler did not sell the detectives, and that the saloon keeper was working on his books and cleaning up the place. Smith said he has roomed over the saloon since he came to the city four months ago, and has not paid anything for it. He is not employed anywhere. His brother pays for his meals.

The detectives when recalled testified that Chandler told them Wednesday night that "it was all right about giving away the gambling, but why did you put in the beer?"

James Polk, who the detectives said, was with them and drank at the bar at the same time, did not remember. He said he was drunk the night before and could not account for his whereabouts.

if they knew any of the members of the party.
John Shephard and Reed Sisley, two farmers in the Jothan creek section of Marshall county, were before the grand jury this afternoon to be asked similar questions.

Last night was quiet in Benton, and the guards did not discover any signs of "night riders." No law and order league has been organized, but several of the prominent citizens have remained up every night since the grand jury has been in session. Trouble has been expected, but no disturbance has occurred while the jury has been in session.

Only six negroes remain in Benton since the notices to leave the town have been posted. Jim Jenkins, employed by Dr. Stille, this morning said he was afraid, and it is the general opinion that every colored person in Benton will leave Saturday night.

FAMILY ORDERED OUT OF PADUCAH IN POLICE COURT

Another attempt to rid the city of a disorderly house and bad characters, rather than collect blood money as fines was that of Judge Cross today in police court by remitting fines of $20 imposed against George Hall and Harry Anderson, white men, if they would get out of the city with their families and outfits before tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. Hall was before the court for failing to support his children and an investigation of the place where he lived by the police revealed one of the most revolting conditions of crime and prostitution. When before the court both Hall and Anderson readily agreed to leave the city if the fines would be suspended. They came here about two months ago from Livingston county and have been occupying a hotel in Littleville until yesterday, when complaint was made to the officials, who investigated the case.

Theobald Peter Capitulates and Pays Fines in Police Court, Agreeing to Refrain From Selling Any Drinks.

Mayor Smith Wins First Round
in Fight to Prevent Illicit Sale of Liquor in City of Paducah.

Theobald Peters this morning paid $150, the amount of fines assessed against him in three cases in police court yesterday, and agreed to not sell any more drinks at his place, 1040 Broadway. The remaining four cases against him are filed away.

Lively interest was manifested all day yesterday in the police court trials of Theobald Peter, charged with operating a "blind tiger" resort at 1040 Broadway, which resulted in one acquittal and three convictions with aggregate fines of $150.

Not the least sensational feature of the trial was the resignation of Chief of Police Collins, which was tendered Mayor James P. Smith in writing, and was withdrawn at the earnest solicitation of Mayor Smith, who with City Solicitor Campbell convinced the chief that every confidence is reposed in the head of the police department, and that he was giving too much heed to trouble makers, who designedly put the wrong construction on the employment of out of town detectives to spot the city "plague spots."

The chief's resignation followed the demand of City Solicitor Campbell for a jury drawn by the county sheriff in the afternoon. Chief Collins considered that a reflection on the good faith of the police department, but his grievance was cumulative, and that alone probably would not have induced him to take such an extreme step.

Mayor Smith employed two Pinkertons to spy out the "Bad Lands" and did not inform Chief Collins or anyone else, as he desired the whole responsibility for the work to rest upon his own shoulders. Two reasons are known to exist why local men are not put to work. They are known by sight by everyone of the persons the mayor wished to expose, and neither the mayor nor the chief of police has the backing of the board of police and fire commissioners in directing the police force.

At the conclusion of the investigation by the detectives Chief Collins was ill at home with tonsillitis and Mayor Smith led a raid on an alleged gambling resort. Had Chief Collins known what the work was he would have gone out regardless of his physical condition, but he could not be told over the telephone.

It was then the political enemies of the administration got in their work. Chief Collins is a personal friend of the mayor, and they chaffed Collins unmercifully and declared that his friend Smith had gone back on him, and had no confidence in him. It hurt the chief more than he would admit.

Yesterday morning the police chose a jury in the Peter case and the defendant was acquitted. Naturally the police went out and found the handiest takers they could. In the afternoon the sheriff drew the juries and three successive convictions were secured.

The case, of course, might have been different, and the real reason for sending sheriff's officers instead of police was that the prosecution desired the officers to begin their search for takers away from the vicinity of the police court room; but to Chief Collins, already ruffled by malicious tongues, it looked like a reflection on the police department, and he resigned.

The Trials.

After the sheriff's venire had appeared warrant No. 4, against Theobald Peter was taken up and the following jurymen served: F. M. Gardner, Eli G. Boone, William Bougeno.

WEATHER.

TIMES RECALLED BEFORE ADVENT OF TRANSFER BOATS

Old times before the day of transfer boats were recalled today when a passenger train pulled up on the Illinois Central siding at First street and Broadway and the passengers went aboard the W. B. Duncan, which transferred them across the river to the railroad track on the Illinois shore, where a train was made up and proceeded on its way.

The trouble was caused by switch engine No. 604 jumping the track at the foot of the incline on Campbell street and preventing the cars from reaching the cradles to be rolled on to the transfer boat. The engine men succeeded in stopping the engine before it got entirely into the water and it will be raised without much damage.

The Duncan then went around to the wharf.

SPEAKER CANNON ILLINOIS' CHOICE

Followers Had Everything Their Way.

Sudden Adjournment Taken But Business Was Resumed and Finished.

AFTER BRIEF HOUR'S DELAY.

Springfield, Ill., March 27.—The Republicans of Illinois enthusiastically endorsed Joseph G. Cannon as a candidate for president, declared in favor of a revision of the tariff, and elected four delegates at large to the national convention.

The delegates are United States Senators Cullom and Hopkins, Governor Charles S. Deneen, and Mayor Fred A. Busse, of Chicago.

The Cannon men had things entirely their own way, and there was not a whisper of opposition throughout the day. All motions were passed unanimously and without argument, and the applause that greeted the reading of the plank endorsing the candidacy of the speaker was great and enthusiastic.

Just before the reading of the platform, the convention took an impromptu and sudden adjournment because of the fire in the Leland hotel, and many delegates never returned to the hall, spending their time in either watching the fire, or in looking for their effects. After an intermission of an hour, the convention was called to order the second time, and the final part of the program was carried out.

Waterway Project Indorsed.

The platform besides declaring for Cannon, indorses the Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway project, and urges the Illinois congressional delegation to use every possible means to secure the necessary appropriation and its speedy construction.

It also commends the action of the Illinois legislature in submitting to the people the proposition to issue $20,000,000 bonds in aid of the construction of the proposed deep waterway. The platform also favors a liberal appropriation of the improvement of the Ohio river, and approves the recent utterances of President Roosevelt regarding the injunction in labor disputes.

RIGHT FOOD
How the Baby Was Saved.

"When our first baby came it was soon apparent that his mother could not nurse him and it became necessary to feed him artificial food. We tried everything recommended by our family doctor, then consulted several other physicians in succession. "We experimented with nearly every artificial food but could barely keep the baby alive, and at the age of five months he weighed no more than at birth. When eight months old he had gained very little, and his stomach and bowels were in such a condition that we despaired of raising him. "A chance acquaintance recommended Grape-Nuts, and we commenced feeding him on it, soaking it until soft in warm water, as milk would not stay on his stomach. "From the very first we saw that we had found the right food at last and he began to improve immediately. We fed him on Grape-Nuts in this way and absolutely nothing else for several months, and he grew so fast and became so fat and strong that our friends were surprised and could scarcely believe that it was the same child. "He did not even begin to crawl or cut his teeth until after we put him on Grape-Nuts. Until that time he was weak and helpless and cried nearly all the time. Now he is a strong, bright, rosy-cheeked child of 3 1/2 years."

Mrs. Mary Wilkins, of Remington, Ind., mother of Dr. John A. Wilkins of Delta, Ind., is one of the oldest residents of the state, having lived in three centuries and being in her 109th year.

She was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, September, 29th, 1799, and came to this country with her husband in 1840. She is the mother of four children all living. At the present time she is visiting a daughter in Indiana and is in splendid health. She enjoyed an automobile ride a few days ago and was greatly pleased at the speed. Mrs. Wilkins remembers the crowning of Queen Victoria, and enjoys telling of the experiences and conditions of a hundred years ago.

On January 18th, Margaret Watson, daughter of Mrs. Wilkins sent the following letter from her mother:

"DEAR MR. DUFFY:—I want to tell you about your medicine, it is doing me so much good. I am now a very old woman. I have passed my 108th birthday. Since taking your Pure Malt Whiskey my appetite is better, and I am stronger. I rest better and my daughter who is 75 years old, says I am getting younger every day. I feel that your Whiskey is a food and that it will keep me alive for a great many years more. Your Malt Whiskey makes me think of the whiskey they make in Ireland. You may put this in the paper if you want to."

Men Rebel Against the Oath They Are Required to Take by the Night Riders.

Eddyville, Ky., March 27.—The lawlessness so rampant in this section has developed a new and startling feature. It has come to light that large numbers of the "inner circle" of the tobacco association—that is, the organized night riders—have been forced into the organization, and at the point of deadly arms made to take the oath administered to those who assume the vows of intimidation, arson and, some report, murder. These are becoming crushed with the sense of responsibility for the crimes committed by the so-called night riders against their earnest protests.

The Turning Point.
It is reported that law-abiding and liberty-loving elements in the organization have been on the verge of open and violent rebellion. They are intensely loyal to the Dark Tobacco Growers' Protective association, and so are all good citizens, but they bitterly resent being made party to the long line of grievous crimes that are desolating the state, and terrorizing the women and children, and even the brave men of the country. There are from that source threats of an insurrection within the ranks of the organization.

Move for Retaliation.
There is, however, another even more significant and desperate movement; that is, a rapidly crystallizing disposition on the part of the victims of the lawlessness to retaliate, and on the part of outsiders who, not having actually suffered, are ready to put down at any cost the dreadful saturnalia of crime that paralyzes every worthy effort on the part of good citizens.

Night Riders Known.
It is reported that agents have been sent secretly among the outlaws, ascertained their names and who their leaders are. These secret agents have prevented a number of outrages planned, of which they happened to receive advance information. Not only the leaders of the organization are known, but the instigators of every visitation are known, and the leaders of every raid.

It is predicted by the thoughtful men in the association that unless lawlessness is put to an early end developments are in store compared with which all former happenings will pale into insignificance, and that the victims will not be helpless women

GETS REWARD LONG DELAYED.
Emigrant Who Saved Life of Fellow Passenger Receives Fortune.

Tacoma, Wash., March 27.—To have saved the life of a fellow emigrant in a wreck in 1874 and thirty-five years later to have read in a news paper plastered upon the wall of a homestead shack an advertisement which led to his becoming the recipient of a fortune of $375,000, is the luck of Peter Anderson, a farm hand, who resides near White Bluffs, Wash. Anderson today received a check for $5,000 to enable him to proceed to New York to carry out the final legal formalities necessary in the transfer of the fortune. His friend was Peter Knudson, who made $1,000,000 in the glove business in New Jersey.

WILLIAMS GIVES OUT STATEMENT

Defending Minority's Attitude Toward Legislation.

Democratic Support Promised Laws on Child Labor, Employers' Liability and Tariff Reform

AGAINST PENALIZING BOYCOTT

Washington, March 27.—Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, as leader of the minority in the house, issued to the press a statement defining the attitude of the Democratic party in the house toward legislation urged by President Roosevelt in his message to congress at the present session. The statement describes what Republican legislation the Democrats will support, what they will oppose and what concessions they demand on the part of the majority as the price of refraining from an organized filibuster throughout the remainder of the session.

Williams opens his statement by saying:

"Some things in the president's recent message are so immediately important to the interests of the entire country as to pass the bounds of partisanship, and to make it excusable, if not necessary, for me to say something concerning them with a view of assuring the president himself and the reasonably inclined Republican members of the house and country of support and endorsement, or opposition of the Democratic minority.

"In so far as the things urged by the president are good things I would like the country to know that all he has to do is to deliver 20 or 25 Republican house votes in favor of them. These conjoined with the solid Democratic votes will put them through."

Williams notes the following measures as ones which will command virtually a solid Democratic vote within constitutional limits.

To compel the publication of campaign contributions; prohibition of child labor; employers' liability law; federal liability to government employees; prohibit issuance of injunctions without notice to party enjoined; removal of tariff on wood pulp and printing paper; imposition of federal charge for every water-power right granted on navigable streams.

The principles and measures urged by the president with which Williams, as minority leader, takes issue, are:

Penalizing of the boycott; the right of the attorney general to nominate receivers when common carriers are thrown into the hands of a receiver; modification of the Sherman anti-trust law, so as to permit, within limitation, the maintenance of trusts and making of trade agreements between combinations of capital and the appointment of a commission to prepare data for revision of the tariff.

New Haven, Conn., March 27.—Ponson C. AMAZING SYSTEM

TWO EMPLOYEES, ONE A DIVISION
HEAD, DISMISSED.

Swindles Involve Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars in City of Chicago.

Chicago, March 27.—An amazing system of robbery and graft involving the city employees and big business firms, and extending back through several years, was uncovered in the water department. As a result of the revelations, two employees, including a division head, were removed, and thirty-eight subordinate employees are slated for discharge. Some of them may be indicted for complicity in the thefts.

Through the use of tampered meters and the connivance of city employees, several large corporations have defrauded the city of hundreds of thousands of dollars in water taxes.

At the same time, the employees of the meter division, to which the scandal is confined, have plundered the stock of supplies, selling meters to junk dealers, and bartering materials for drinks in saloons.

Supplies never used by the city were purchased ostensibly for the water department, and then used by city plumbers in private outside business.

"The payrolls of the division were found padded with idlers and incompetents. The force, which originally numbered 200 men, was reduced by Superintendent W. J. McCourt, of the water bureau, to fifty.

The unearthing of the crookedness is due to the efforts of Superintendent McCourt, who was appointed head of the bureau six weeks ago, after winning first place in the merit test for the place.

Head of San Francisco Anarchists
Says Ships Should Be Blown Up.

San Francisco, March 27.—Paul Bignami, said to be the head of the local colony of anarchists, was arrested today and an attempt will be made to have him deported. Bignami, who came here from New Orleans a year ago, last night harangued a crowd and was heard by Policeman Rocca to say that the fleet on its arrival should be blown out of the water; that President Roosevelt should be assassinated and that the entire police department of this city should be wiped out of existence.

HELD AS STUDENT RIOTER.

First Defendant in Ann Arbor Cases
Bound Over for Trial.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 27.—Orville Glenn Emerick, freshman engineer, was bound over to the circuit court, to appear at the May term, for alleged participation in the student riot. His bail was fixed at $1,000. His home is in Galveston, Ind. Patrolman Walsh swore that he assisted in arresting Emerick, and that he arrested others, but the crowd rescued the prisoners.

In the case of Charles Roy Rook,

Bowen, Ill., Deputy Sheriff Kelsey swore that he arrested Rook as he was hurling something at the Star Theater sign. Rook's examination will be continued tomorrow.

The attorneys for the defense say that they are going to compel the prosecutor to go down through the entire list, one by one.

The Star theater, which was wrecked by students ten days ago, has been placed in condition again and was reopened last night. The place was jammed and people turned away, but there was no demonstration.

Daily Thought.

If you would find gladness you must play life's great game with eagerness and fairness.

We expected criticism of Mayor Smith's crusade in the quarter from which it comes.

"Bim, the Button Man," died just in time to save his reputation. He predicted the nomination of Joe Cannon.

John Sharp Williams need feel no surprise that his declaration of a filibustering campaign resulted in filling the hall of congress with Republicans. That is not the first time a man has bluffed and been shown a full house.

Delegates to the Illinois Republican state convention will always remember the occasion as one, on which they lost their influence in the national convention and lost their baggage in the hotel fire.

It is a popular fallacy to believe that the criminal lawyer resents the prosecution of his clients, when, in fact, he is glad of it, because he makes his living defending them.

NO FLATTERY.

A local paper says: "It is no flattery to say that the tobacco associations of the state have within themselves the power to settle once and for all the work of the night riders." We should say it isn't. No doubt the associations and most certainly the rest of us, could wish the local paper had gone further and explained how the tobacco associations "have within themselves the power."

Republicans of Tennessee fought each other for the privilege of endorsing William H. Taft for president.

LATE, BUT CONSERVATIVE.

A very conservative local paper, which recently gave exclusive publicity to a fake night rider outrage in Ballard county a few miles from Paducah, said yesterday: "The best of order exists in Benton and there is no kind of scare there. Last night there was feeling among the people because of the false stories, which were published." It comes from a very reliable source that lately there has been a law and order association organized in Benton and that fifty of the best men of the place have been enrolled as members. The purpose of this organization is the protection of life and property and the defense of the people should any one attempt to molest them for fancied wrongs. This body it is safe to say, will be heard from should any would-be law-breakers attempt to administer any kind of rebuff or attempt any disorderly caper. In this connection it can be said also as a fact that one of the leading officials of the county, who recently received some threats through mail, hunted up one of the suspected leaders of the white-cappers, a resident perhaps of a county contiguous to Marshall, and told him in plain words what he had a right to think and then there said that if his property was burned, as was the threat, that he would personally hold him responsible and if necessary shoot it out with him.
We should like to know how the people of Benton would act if they had a real, sure-enough scare.

Our conservative contemporary got all the real information contained in that story from The Sun of the preceding day. It will find in yesterday's Sun that those best citizens were on guard at night, and that the state has sent rifles to Benton. The Sun has some more news today, which the "conservative" may use tomorrow.

THE NEGROES AND SECRETARY TAFT.

It is gratifying to note that the colored people of the country are beginning to study the present political situation from a sane and conservative standpoint, says the New York Age (colored). One finds in reading the letters to the press, both white and colored, that the thoughtful colored men in the states are doing all in their power to negative the idea advanced by a handful of radicals that colored men should vote the Democratic ticket next fall if Secretary Taft should become the nominee of the Chicago convention. Under the present conditions in this country there is absolutely nothing to fear as to the attitude of the negro vote next November. Ninety-nine per cent of it will be cast for the Republican nominee for president, whoever he may be. There is no refuge for the colored voter in this country but the Republican party—the party that has done all that has ever been done for the negro.

Last month three or four colored preachers, one bishop and a few Democratic negro politicians, attempted to make it appear that the bishops of the three branches of the colored Methodist church assembled in Washington were bitterly opposed to President Roosevelt and the secretary of war, William H. Taft. The sensational headlines in the press were calculated to give one this impression. But when the articles themselves were carefully read it was seen that the bishops as a whole had nothing whatsoever to do with the sentiment expressed in them. The so-called "Resolutions of Bishops" was a most flagrant attempt to deceive the country. Not a single bishop signed them, and perhaps none but Bishop Alexander Walters, of the Zion A. M. E. church, knew of their existence. They were written, adopted and given to the country by three or four preachers without the sanction of the church or the bishop's council. It was purely a cheap political trick that has failed utterly. The whole scheme of these men was discredited when many of the bishops wrote denials of their participation in any meeting whatever that had for its purpose antagonism to the president or to Secretary Taft. The resolutions themselves bore the headlines, "Resolutions of Bishops," and began, "We, the colored ministers of the A. M. E., the A. M. E. Zion and the C. M. E. churches of the United States," etc. There could not have been a plainer or more palpable attempt to mislead and deceive the colored voters of the country. Behind this scheme there was a half dozen colored men who have been affiliating with the Democratic party for years. They met with these recalcitrant preachers constantly while they were here, and posing as great and unselfish lovers of the race used Brownsville as a Shibboleth to arouse the negro against the Republican party and its leaders.

These men did not succeed in their efforts. The colored people of this country read and think for themselves and are not to be swept off their feet and carried away by the cunning and the hypocrisy of a lot of pseudo leaders. It is pleasing to note that there is a very strong sentiment growing up among colored people in all parts of the country in behalf of the candidacy of Secretary Taft for the nomination at Chicago in June. Thoughtful men have begun to study the man and his splendid career as they touch the life and place in the body politic of the dark races recently brought under the protecting wing of the United States government. What he has done for the Filipino and the Cuban he will do for the negro American when the opportunity comes to him. William H. Taft is the son of Alonzo Taft, statesman and abolitionist. He is the scion of the stock that has always stood for equal rights for all men, and he is the only cabinet officer the country has had who has ever held up the order of a president for any period, however brief, for any cause whatever. Colored men are beginning to appreciate the full significance of the act of the secretary of war when he held back the president's order relative to the dismissal of the black battalion for twenty-four hours, in order to stay the execution of it finally, if possible.

THE MYSTERY

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE And SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS.

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

I don't know why I tell you this; why I lay so much stress on the first weird impression I got of the forecastle. It means something to me now—in view of all that happened subsequently. Almost can I look back and see in that moment of occultism a warning, an enlightenment—But the point is it meant something to me then. I stood there fascinated, unable to move, unable to speak.

Then the grotesque figure in the corner stirred.

"Well, mates," said the man, "believe or not believe, it's in the bunk, and it stands to reason too. We have gold mines here in California and Nevada and all them states, and we hear of gold mines in Mexico and Australia, too, but did you ever hear tell of gold mines in Europe? Tell me that! And where did the gold come from, then, before they discovered America? Tell me that! Why, then, made it, just as the man that wrote this here says, and you can kiss the book on that."

"How about that place, Ophir, I read about?" asked a voice from the bunks. The man shot a keen glance thither from beneath his brows.

"Know last year's output from the mines of Ophir, Thrackles?" he inquired in silky tones.

"Why, no," stammered the man addressed as Thrackles.

"Well, I do," pursued the man with the steel hook, "and it's just the whole of nothing, and you can kiss the book on that too. There ain't any gold outpout because there ain't any mines, and there never have been. They made their gold."

He tossed aside a book he had been holding in his left hand. Recognized the fat little paper duodecimo with amusement and some wonder. The only other copy I had ever laid my eyes on is in the Astor library. It is somewhat of a rarity, called "The Secret of Alchemy; or, The Grand Doctrine of Transmutation Fully Explained," and was written by a Dr. Edward Duval, a most extraordinary volume to have fallen into the hands of seamen.

I stepped forward, greeting and being greeted. Besides the man I have mentioned there were four. The cook was a bullet-headed squat negro with a broken nose. I believe he had a name Robinson or something of that sort. He was to all of us simply the nigger. Unlike most of his race, he was gloomy and taciturn.

Of the other two, a little white faced, thin chested youth named Pulz and a villainous looking Mexican called Perdosa, I shall have more to say later.

My arrival broke the talk on alchemy. It resumed its course in the direction of our voyage. Each discovered that the others knew nothing, and each blundered against the astounding fact of double wages.

"All I know is the pay's good, and that's enough," concluded Thrackles from a bunk.

"The pay's too good," growled Handy Solomon. "This ain't no job to go look at the 'clipse of the moon or the devil's a preacher!"

"What you malk beem, den?" queried Perdosa.

"It's treasure, of course," said Handy Solomon shortly.

"He, he, he," laughed the negro without mirth.

"What's the matter with you, doctor?" demanded Thrackles.

"Treasure!" repeated the nigger. "You see dat box he done carry so careful? You see dat?"

A pause ensued. Somebody scratched a match and lit a pipe.

"No, I don't see that," broke out Thrackles finally, with some impatience.

"I sabs how a man goes after treasure with a box, but why should he take treasure away in a box? What do you think, Bucko?" he suddenly appealed to me.

I looked up from my investigation of the empty berths.

"I don't think much about it," I replied, "except that by the look of the stores we're due for more than Honolulu, and from the look of the light we'd better turn to on deck."

An embarrassed pause fell.

"Who are you, anyway?" bluntly demanded the man with the steel hook.

"My name is Eagen," I replied; "I've the berth of mate. Which of these bunks are empty?"

They indicated what I desired with just a trace of sullenness. I understood well enough their resentment at having a ship's officer quartered on them—the foe'sie they considered as their only liberty when at sea and my presence as a curtailment to the freedom of speech. I subsequently did my best to overcome this feeling, but never quite succeeded.

At my command the nigger went to his galley. I ascended to the deck. Dusk was falling in the swift Californian fashion. Already the outlines of the wharf houses were growing indistinct, and the lights of the city were beginning to twinkle. Captain Selover came to my side and leaned over the rail, peering critically at the black water against the pines.

"She's at the flood," he squeaked. "And here comes the Lucy Belle."

The tug took us in charge and puffed with us down the harbor and through the Golden Gate. We had sweated the canvas on her, even to the flying jib, and a huge club topsail she sometimes carried at the main, for the afternoon trades had lost their strength. About midnight we drew up on the Farallones.

The schooner handled well. Our crew was divided into three watches, an unusual arrangement, but comfortable. Two men could sail her handily in most sorts of weather. Handy Solomon had the wheel. Otherwise the deck was empty. The man's fantastic headgear, the fringe of his curling oily locks, the hawk outline of his face momentarily silhouetted against the phosphorescence astern as he glanced to windward, all lent him an appearance of another day. I could almost imagine I caught the gleam of silver butted horse pistols and cutlasses at his waist.

I brooded in wonder at what I had seen and how little I had explained. The number of boats, sufficient for a craft of three times the tonnage; the capacity of the forecastle with its eighteen bunks, enough for a passenger ship—what did it mean? And this wild, unkempt, villainous crew with its master and his almost ridiculous contrast of neatness and fifth-did-Dr. Schermerhorn realize to what he had trusted himself and his precious expedition, whatever it might be?

The lights of shore had sunk. The Laughing Lass staggered and leaped joyously with the glory of the open sea. She seemed alone on the bosom of the ocean, and for the life of me I could not but feel that I was embarked on some desperate adventure. The notion was utterly illogical. That I knew well. In sober thought I, a reporter, was shadowing a respectable and venerable scientist, who in turn was probably about to investigate at length some little known deep sea conditions of phenomena of an unexplored island. But that did not suffice to my imagination. The ship, its surroundings, its equipment, its crew—all read fantastic. So much the better story, I thought, shrugging my shoulders at last.

The evidence was much the same in all the cases. Bottles of alleged beer and whiskey were produced, which the detectives had bought from Peter, and Richard Callisi, the brewery agent, swore that the liquid alleged to be beer is a temperance drink, guaranteed. The label said it conforms to the requirements of the pure food law.

The detectives swore to having and drinking intoxicating drinks of Peter, and the defendant, who acknowledged that he possesses a government liquor license, swore he does not sell intoxicating liquors, but only conducts a restaurant.

The court room was crowded with representative citizens, who once or twice burst into applause for Mayor Smith, who in his usual vehement style retorted to questions asked by Hal Corbett, attorney for the defense.

Some Incidents.

During the progress of the trial yesterday afternoon there were several warm passages between the attorneys for the prosecution and defense and tension was at high pitch throughout the trial.

The decided sensation of the day, however, was when Mayor Smith, who took the stand to testify that the whiskey and beer which was in evidence and was opened and smelled and tasted by the jury and attorneys, was the same that the detectives had brought to his residence, having bought it from Peter. On cross-examination, Hal Corbett who represented

Peter, asked the mayor if it was not a fact that he had brought the detectives here to spy upon people and get them to violate the law that they might be arrested. The mayor sprang to his feet, his face white, and with his arm upraised and fist clenched, roared, "No, I brought them here in an endeavor to stop immoral women from running their places in respectable neighborhoods and flaunting themselves in the faces of respectable women; I brought them here to get evidence that would convict dive keepers, who run hell holes in open violation of the law. I hired them and I pay them out of my own pocket."

"You need not make a speech to the jury," said Mr. Corbett.

"I am not talking to the jury," said the mayor in an instant. "You are talking to me and I am talking to you."

Although Judge Cross, in response to several attempts of Peter's friends to applaud Mr. Corbett in his rigid examination of the detectives, had been forced to announce that he would clear the court room if another demonstration occurred, the good citizens in the court room could contain themselves no longer and a ripple of applause went around the court room at the conclusion of the mayor's remarks.

In his opening speech Mr. Corbett made a powerful assault upon the detectives' testimony and dramatically told of the first detective on record, who betrayed Jesus Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane for thirty pieces of silver after he had affected friendship to the Christ and had kissed him.

Mr. Wheeler, who appeared in the case after the first trial, used effective sarcasm in comparing the defendant, who he called a dive keeper and law violator, to the Savior.

EDITOR HORNE ACQUITTED.

Kansas Citizen Who Slew Fellow Newspaperman Held Insane.

Kansas City, March 27.—General Richard C. Horne was acquitted of the charge of murdering H. J. Groves, managing editor of the Kansas City Post, by a jury in the criminal court here. The verdict stated that General Horne was insane when he shot Groves and commits him to an asylum. It was the contention of the defense that General Horne's insanity was brought on by the fact that he had put everything he possessed in the Post and lost not only his situation, but his money, the position paying $25 a week being his only means of livelihood.

KICKED ON HEAD

Mr. W. D. Hawley narrowly escaped having the top of his head kicked off this morning by a horse which he was doctoring. Mr. Hawley was treating a horse at his stable, Fifth and Jefferson streets, that had run a nail in its foot. The horse had been thrown to the floor and as Mr. Hawley was examining the wounded hoof the animal began kicking, striking Mr. Hawley above the left eye and knocking him to the floor. A rash several inches long was cut in his forehead. Dr. Horace Rivers was called and sewed up the wound. Mr. Hawley then went to his home, 2425 Broadway.

Cause and Effect.

"Dinks never makes an opportunity state that he is a gentleman." "Yes, and he has made the assertion often that he almost believes it himself."

IDENTIFIED AS OLD OFFENDER.

Man Who Died in Chicago Hospital Measured by System.

Chicago, March 27.—Alfred Miller, of Cleveland, Ohio, died in Englewood hospital here from a bullet wound which the police assert he received at Christmas, near Danville, Ill., yesterday.

The man was found on the doorstep of M. H. Flannigan, 6017 Green street at night, but the police force were not notified until he had been removed to the hospital this morning. After Miller's death Bertillon measures were taken of the body and it was found that they corresponded with those of "Ed Fuller," arrested 19 years ago for safe breaking.

According to the deductions of the police, Miller was one of the three men who tried to rob the safe of the Bank of Christian March 25. The trio were fired upon by the watchman, who wounded one of them. All three broke away.

The police assert that Miller traveled over 150 miles with a bullet hole through his body, and without attention until he reached Englewood.

PENROSE GROWS WORSE.

Little Hope for Recovery of Pennsylvania Senator.

Philadelphia, March 27.—The condition of United States Senator Penrose is said to be very grave and but little hope is given for his recovery. He has been unconscious during most of the day. His physicians have not given up hope. They issued the following bulletin at 9 o'clock. "Senator Penrose's condition has remained critical and is somewhat more grave by reason of the fresh extension of the erysipelas condition which was quiescent until this evening, when there was renewed activity."

Ridgely Resigns.

Washington, March 27.—Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely presented his resignation to the president today, effective on his acceptance of the presidency of the reorganized National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City.

"And now, ladies," concluded the lecturer on woman's rights to her down-trodden sisters. "I am ready to answer any questions."

"Would you mind telling us," ventured one fair auditor, "where you got that perfect love of a hat?" Philadelphia Ledger.

The Horace K. Turner Traveling Art Gallery, which is being exhibited at the "Three Links" building under the auspices of the city schools, was visited by a large and appreciative crowd last evening. The rooms were filled from 7:30 until 10 o'clock and that a careful study of the pictures was being made was easily manifest. The Art and Civics departments of the Woman's club were the hostesses of the evening. The pictures are good copies of the famous originals, and include studies of animal life, landscape scenes, figures, sculpture, architecture, featuring the works of the most notable artists of ancient and modern times. A number of the pictures are patriotic and portraits of America's great men are also included. Catalogues are for sale at the building and it is really like a miniature art gallery at a world's fair.

One room is devoted to a display of the work of the local schools, arranged by buildings. It is most attractively arranged and gives a fine idea of the pupils' work from the kindergarten up through the various grades. JOHNSON SAYS HE IS PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—Governor Johnson a Johnson is a candidate for the presidential nomination of the Democratic party. He authorizes your correspondent to make this statement in his behalf. He is something less than an aggressive candidate, in that he is making and will make no organized, systematic effort to secure the nomination. He is something more than a receptive candidate, because in a quiet and dignified way and his friends are looking after his interests, and because the governor and his friends will control the delegation from this state to the Denver convention, and Minnesota, with substantially unanimous voice will present his candidate, "the man who can win at the polls," to the national Democracy.

Gov. Johnson authorizes this announcement to be made because it was pointed out to him that almost everywhere in the country great uncertainty exists as to the present attitude and future course. So many rumors and conflicting statements concerning him have been in circulation that the people do not know what to believe.

Trading Stamps With Funerals.

Chicago, March 27.—"Trading stamps with every funeral," is the placard that one may expect to see soon in the windows of up-to-date Chicago undertakers.

That two or three funeral directors of the northwest side of the city have adopted the trading stamp system to increase business was revealed when a bereaved widow canceled an order at a down-town undertaker's because he would not give her some stamps. Friends of hers, she said, who recently had deaths in their families, were given trading stamps by the undertaker, and she insisted on getting the coupons or she would go elsewhere. The matter of trading stamps will be brought before the Chicago Undertakers' association at its next meeting.

LEFT HUSBAND

MRS. ALFRED GWYNNE VANDERBILT MAY SEEK SEPARATION.

Sixty Millions Fail to Bring Peace and Happiness to the Newport Couple.

New York, March 27.—It became known here that Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt has removed her personal effects from Oakland Farm, Newport, her husband's country home. Her home during the summer, it is understood, will be at the residence of her brother, Amos Tuck French, at Tuxedo.

Mr. Vanderbilt, who recently came to New York from London, is now at the Hotel Plaza. It is said he will return to London soon, and occupy a house he has rented for the season.

The announcement that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt will not make Newport their home this summer has occasioned much surprise in society circles.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, with her brother, Mr. French, who has been at Newport much this winter, superintended the moving of her effects from the farm.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was Miss Elsie French, daughter of the late Francis Ormond French, president of the Manhattan Trust company and director in many railroads. She married Mr. Vanderbilt in January, 1900, after he had been graduated from Yale a year. William, their only child, was born in 1901.

Alfred Vanderbilt inherited upward of $60,000,000 from his father, the late Cornelius Vanderbilt. Much of his time has been spent abroad during the past year.

TURKEY WAS TIRED OF LIFE.

Big Maryland Gobbler Put End to Its Troubles By Committing Suicide.

Rising Sun, Md., March 27.—A big gobbler belonging to George Nesbitt, of Woodlawn, deliberately committed suicide.

The bird had been suffering from some undiscoverable complaint for several days. He had wandered about moping, refusing to feed, and keeping away from his fellows in the flock.

He seemed to make up his mind to end it all. He flew with tremendous force against a barbed wire fence, cutting his windpipe clean through. He fell back dead.

Rank Foolishness.

"When attacked by a cough or a cold, or when your throat is sore, it is rank foolishness to take any other medicine than Dr. King's New Discovery," says C. O. Elbridge, of Empire, Ga. "I have used New Discovery seven years and I know it is the best remedy on earth for coughs and colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. My children are subject to croup, but New Discovery quickly cures every attack." Known the world over as the king of throat and lung remedies. Sold under guarantee at all druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

The Child's Advice.

Little Arthur stood peering down into the countenance of his baby sister, whom the nurse was singing to sleep.

"Say, nurse," he finally whispered, "it's nearly unconscious, isn't it?"

The nurse nodded in the affirmative and sang on.

"Then don't sing any more or you'll kill it!"—March Lippincott's.

IS RHEUMATISM CURABLE NOW?

Science Proves it a Symptom of Kidney Trouble and Easily Relieved.

AND GIVES THIS RECIPE.

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the veins and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

A well-known specialist, who has probably treated more cases of rheumatism than anyone else, and who is also the most successful, gives the following simple treatment, which is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple that anybody can mix it at home.

The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three vegetable ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisonous waste matter, decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON MOTORMAN.

Mr. Morey, of Newton Center, Says Youngest Boy Works on Road as Part of Education.

Boston, Mass., March 27.—Herbert S. Morey, retired millionaire asbestos manufacturer, who lives at 119 Cedar street, Newton Center, emphatically denied that there were at present, or ever had been any differences, between himself and his youngest son, Sumner, who is a motorman in the employ of the Templeton Street Railway company. The job is part of his scheme of educating his sons and to teach them self reliance, he says.

Mr. Morey added that his son's taking a motorman's job was his plan. He had brought up and educated four sons the same way. He wanted to give his sons a liberal education, and then leave them to depend solely upon their own resources.

THREE FAMILIES

LAST TO LEAVE BENTON ARRIVED HERE LAST NIGHT.

Few Colored Folks Left in Marshall County—How Calvert City Acted Years Ago.

The women folk of the last three negro families remaining in Benton arrived in Paducah last night to join the men and heads of the families who have been here several days seeking homes. The refugees say that Sallie Pryor and her family, the woman on whose doors the notice for all negroes to leave Benton, comprise the only colored family now in Benton and that she says she intends to stay no matter what the consequences. The exodus of the negroes from Benton and Birmingham takes about all the negroes out of Marshall county, as there have been no refugees in certain sections of the county for many years, having been driven out on other occasions.

Around Calvert City there is a greeting of "Negro, don't let the sun go down on you here," for every colored man that goes there and it is always heeded, since several have been killed for attempting to stay. The cause of the feeling at Calvert City was a crime committed on a white girl by a negro man years ago. It is said that the negro captured the daughter of a well known farmer and carried her into a dense wood and tied her to a tree, keeping her many days and finally killing her.

The negro was captured and burned at stake and from that day to this no negro has been allowed to live in that vicinity, one family that defied the mob being almost wiped out by a band of men that fired into their house and killed several of the family.

WILL SHOW THE "CLOSED" CITY

Springfield Saloonists to Shut Up Shop and Make an Example.

Springfield, Ill., March 27.—Voters on the anti-saloon proposition in Springfield next month are to be shown the "horrible example" in an entirely new aspect, if the Springfield Liquor Dealers' association adopts the plan proposed by an enthusiastic clique of its members. It is planned to give the people of Springfield an evidence of what the capital city will resemble under the suggested order of things by voluntarily closing every saloon in the city for two or three days prior to the election. The "wet" are hopeful of an overwhelming revulsion of sentiment with the practical illustration.

No man can win righteousness who will not take some risks on his reputation.

Many a man boasts of his good deeds while awaiting an opportunity to do a bad one.

Is Digestion Labor to Your Stomach?

Do you lack healthy appetite? Have you an abnormal appetite? Do you crave certain foods that you can't digest? Do you feel bloated and full after eating? Does your stomach oppress you? Do you feel drowsy after eating? These and other symptoms are sure evidences that digestion is laboring to your stomach, that, in fact, you have indigestion or dyspepsia and that your eating is not doing you good it should. In many cases these symptoms are complicated with chronic constipation, and that makes matters worse. What you need is something to aid your digestion and to regulate your bowels. A remedy to do that must have laxative and tonic properties. You will find what is needed in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound and tonic. It stimulates the juices of the stomach which aid in the digestion of food and acts on the liver and bowels, regulating them to do their work promptly and effectively. Regardless of the cause of the trouble Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will cure it.

Cured by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

I have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in my family for about four years. It is the best remedy I ever found for constipation, biliousness and indigestion, and I would not think of being without it in the house.

From a laborer in labor circles and local politics, candidate for Mayor on the Socialist Ticket.

I have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for the past four years for constipation and find it the most reliable laxative I have ever used.

My daughter has suffered from indigestion for the past five years and has tried nearly everything that she could hear of for such trouble. She was confined to her bed when she began taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and after taking one fifty-cent bottle she was able to walk a mile at a time, and during the day, yesterday, walked three and a half miles.

I feel like praising Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin because two doctors told me my daughter could never get well, and I feel that she is on a fair road to permanent relief.

After receiving my trial bottle of Syrup Pepsin and using it I am sure it is the very thing I have been looking for so long. I never had so small an amount of anything do so much good.

It is sold under a positive guarantee to do what is claimed for it or money will be refunded. Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed in plain English—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative merits still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve-ine it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booster" for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of its kind in the market, still leads and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

PERSISTENT WOOLER WINS OUT.

Romance Begun in Chicago Reaches Climax in Connecticut.

Waterbury, Conn., March 27.—Renewing his proposal of seventeen years ago made in Chicago, James Turnbull, aged 55, came to Waterbury from Long Island, N. Y., told his love to Mary E. Steinman, nurse, aged 39 years, and took her away on the 6 o'clock train as his promised bride. Turnbull never faltered in his hope of winning the girl, who was a cashier in Chicago. She came east and Turnbull followed as far as New York, where he secured a position as letter carrier. He lived in the vicinity of his love in Brooklyn for nearly five years and had seen her often and had made himself worthy, he said.

Total sales to date, 2,005 hogheads.

The receipts reported above are estimated to be about 25 per cent of amount which will be handled by the association this year.

The Planters' Protective association sold 68 hogheads during the past week, making a total of 390 for the season so far. The prices ranged from $7 to $10 for lugs and from $10 to $13 for leaf. No fine grades were sought and none offered. Receipts to date amount to 2,412 hogheads.

The exact figures could not be secured from the Society of Equity warehouse, but several hogheads were sold at good prices.—Hopkinsville News Era.

Plants are reported to be showing above the ground now and indications point to a plentiful supply. As usual the farmers sowed about twice as much plant land as they expected to have use for. This year the acreage in this county will be held strictly in accordance, if not considerably below the requirements of the association, and therefore the demand for plants will be correspondingly less.

Association salesrooms will be opened soon at Russellville and Princeton. E. W. Gunn will be salesman at the former and John Orr at the latter.

Crazy Engineer.
Shreveport, La., March 27.—G. W. Howard, a locomotive engineer on the Red River Valley, becoming suddenly insane, shot up Taylorstown, killed a negro at Poole, nineteen miles south of Shreveport, and, when reaching East Point, fired two shots at his fireman and took to the woods.

At Poole, a negro was standing on the platform watching the train go by when Howard, leaning from his cab, shot him under the right arm, causing death. The train was supposed to stop there, but Howard threw the throttle open and went through at a rapid rate.

At Taylorstown, he fired several shots into the town and when the train reached East Point, Howard stopped and was leaving the locomotive, when the fireman asked him not to do so. Becoming enraged he turned and fired twice at the fireman, a white man, but did not hit him. Howard then took to the woods. A posse is in pursuit.

RUN DOWN—TIRED.

Paducah People Who Are in This Condition Are Asked to Read This Article.

There are many people in this vicinity at this season of the year who are all run down, no strength—hardly able to drag about. Don't know what ails them.

We want to say to every such person that our cod liver preparation, Vinol, is the tonic reconstructer which they need. Vinol tones up the digestive organs, creates a healthy appetite, makes rich red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body to do its work. In this natural manner strength and vitality quickly replace weakness and lassitude.

Miss Rose Blair, president Sophomore club, Kansas City, writes: "Last spring I was all run down, nervous, irritable and could not sleep. I tried many medicines without benefit. Vinol was recommended. It was delicious and not at all like the greasy cod liver oil and emulsions I was used to. Vinol gave me a hearty appetite and restored me to perfect health and strength."

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as an unexcelled strength creator for old people, weak, sickly women, delicate children and the convalescent.

Try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails to give satisfaction.—W. B. McPherson, druggist, Paducah, Ky.

BUSINESS "ALL BY ITSELF"

Output of Factories Which Make Visors for Caps.

There is one man in the business who in 1909 will have been making cap visors for half a century, and he isn't an old man either. He started at the trade in 1859, working for a concern of which he is now the head, which, says the New York Sun, was then established in a building at Broadway and Rector streets, where the Empire building now stands. He recalls the fact that when the war broke out they worked night and day turning out visors for soldiers' caps.

The manufacture of cap visors is a business by itself. Only about fifteen concerns are engaged in it, of which number are all located in New York save two or three located in Philadelphia and Boston. New York supplies visors for cap manufacturers all over the country, producing in the aggregate millions of them annually.

For the very cheapest cloth caps visors are made of cardboard paper or of imitation leather covered with the cloth of which the cap body is made. For other grades of cloth caps visors are made of various sorts of light leather, and for some cloth cap of fine quality there are now used, because it is lighter than leather, visors are made of a heavy specially woven and waterproof canvas.

For visors there is, now made an imitation leather composed of bookbinders' board and what is called moleskin, the two being cemented together under pressure. In a made-up cap, where its edges could not be seen, this material might pass even an expert for leather. The best leather visors are made of leather specially tanned and prepared.

Take the country at large and caps are not used by the people in general for ordinary wear so much as they were fifty years ago, but caps are still worn in great numbers by young people and by sportsmen and travelers and golf players, and of uniform caps of one sort and another there are now worn more than 300 per cent. more than twenty years ago.

A very simple little thing a cap visor may seem, but great numbers of them are used, and in a factory where they make them you would find around rolls and sides of leathers and other materials, and hundreds of dies and moulds for the cutting and shaping of visors, and men busily at work following visor making just as they might any other trade.

It Does the Business.

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at all druggists.

TEACHERS ARE OUT ON STRIKE.

No More School Until Their Salary Warrants Are Delivered.

Kansas City, March 27.—Ten school teachers, led by Miss Minnie Martin, principal, today dismissed their classes at the Bryant school in Wyandotte county, north of Kansas City, Kan., and declared that there would be no more school until teachers' warrants were properly signed and delivered to them. The teachers assert that they have been unable to get their salary warrants signed without being required to go to the home of the district treasurer, a great inconvenience to them.

MAN MAKES COO'S HUSTLE.

It Took 600 Pounds of Policemen to Remove 120 Pound Prisoner.

Boston, Mass., March 27.—Sentenced to three months in the house of correction on a charge of wife beating, John Roth refused to leave the Charleston municipal court for the Deer Island boat yesterday, and it took three policemen and a stiff struggle to make him change his mind.

When Roth objected to leaving the dock Court Officer Frank Cotton (weight 200 pounds) threw him out into the court room where Court Officer Henry Fox (also 200) closed with him. Roth weighs about 120 pounds himself, but in spite of the dislike of work that prompted his objections to Deer Island, he is muscular and active. Finally Patrolman Everett Gould (160 pounds) was called in, and then Roth surrendered.

A Higher Health Level.

"I have reached a higher health level since I began using Dr. King's New Life Pills," writes Jacob Springer of West Franklin, Maine. "They keep my stomach, liver and bowels working just right." If these pills disappoint you on trial, money will be refunded at all druggists. 25c.

TIED IN BED BY LIGHTNING.

Strange Accident to a Cleveland Couple.

Cleveland, O., March 27.—Lightning striking the home of William Gallagher, 3733 East Ninety-first street, last night, ripped the building to pieces and made prisoners of Gallagher and his wife by tightly knotting the bedclothes. The iron bedstead occupied by the aged couple was twisted and bent. Bedclothes were torn into strings and twisted into a score of knots. Gallagher and his wife called for help until exhausted. Suffering from cold, they lay in the midst of ruins, with rain beating down upon them, until after midnight Gallagher is $5 and his wife $0.

SAVED AT ST.

WINNIFRED HOSPITAL.

(San Francisco Bulletin.)
The physicians in Honolulu could do nothing for U. S. Deputy Marshal Winters and he gave them up in despair and came to San Francisco to see if there was any physician here who could cure an extreme case of chronic Bright's Disease. He had had two uraemic convulsions, was almost bursting with dropsy, and, after fighting the disease for two years, was at the end of the way. The first physician he consulted in this city told him that chronic Nephritis is now a curable disease and that he would probably recover. He sent the patient to the St. Winnifred Hospital, put him on the new treatment for Bright's Disease, and proceeded to aid it in many ways that the skilled practitioner understands. In four months Winters went back to the islands perfectly well.—San Francisco Bulletin.

We sent for the treatment given the patient referred to in the St. Winnifred Hospital with such remarkable results and have it in stock for patients here. Both Bright's Disease and Diabetes are now curable. Call and let me tell you all about it.—W. B. McPherson, Paducah, Ky.

DIVORCE SUITS IN PRIVATE

Brooklyn Cases Will Be Given But Little Publicity.

Through an order issued by the judges of the supreme court, says the New York Herald, divorces in Brooklyn in the future will be attended with much less publicity than in the past. According to this order, no one but counsel for the parties concerned directly can get access to testimony or pleadings in these cases.

Publicity has been held by ministers and some members of the bench to be one of the best of reducing the number of divorces in this country. With the enforcement of this order no publicity can be given to divorce cases without an order from a judge. The order, which was shown in the county clerk's office yesterday, is as follows:

"General rules of practice, adopted pursuant to section 17, Code of Civil Procedure.—No officer of any court with whom the proceedings in any cause for divorce are filed, or before

POPULAR MAGAZINE TO WRITE UP CITY

"Bob" Taylor Publication to Exploit Paducah's Resources.

Periodical Is Now One of the Most Successful in the South and Growing in Favor.

PRIZE OFFER FOR SUBSCRIBERS.

During the last few days there has been in the city a representative of the Taylor-Trotwood Magazine, the south's greatest monthly publication, edited by Senator Robert L. Taylor (our Bob) of Tennessee, and John Trotwood Moore.

The Taylor-Trotwood magazine was originally "Bob Taylor's Magazine" until it consolidated with "Trotwood's Monthly" of Nashville, and the name changed to "Taylor-Trotwood." This was about eighteen months ago and since that time the circulation has been going upward with each issue. The magazine has enjoyed from the beginning a great popularity in Kentucky where Senator Taylor is as well known as he is in his native state, and John Trotwood Moore's brilliant editorials and stories of Kentucky and Tennessee thoroughbreds which are dear to the hearts of all citizens of these two states. He has a new serial story in the April number of Taylor-Trotwood Magazine, entitled, "The Gift of the Grass," being the autobiography of a famous race horse, and as Mr. Moore says, "translated for the benefit of the great white race." That the Taylor-Trotwood Magazine has always proven a literary gem is testified to by the fact that it has a circulation rating that has passed the eighty thousand mark. This circulation is among the better class of people throughout the United States, and was obtained wholly on the merits of the publication and not by offering numerous premiums and cutting the subscription price.

The giving away of four scholarships to worthy young men or women, was conceived by the representative who is now in the city, who purchased the scholarships yesterday from the Paducah Central Business College.

Will Give Paducah an Illustrated Write-Up.

Mr. Henry T. Price, of the Taylor-Trotwood staff, has been getting data preparatory to a general write-up of Paducah and as to what it offers in the way of inducing outside capital or people seeking new homes to locate here. This write-up will be illustrated with important scenes, industries and residences of the city, and will go into over eighty thousand homes throughout the United States. The write-up has the endorsement of the "Commercial Club" and if you have any scene or other illustration that you think would make the write-up attractive, phone Mr. Price, care of "Commercial Club," and he will call on you.

The Scholarship Contest.
As stated above the Taylor-Trotwood Magazine has never given away anything in the way of cheap premiums in an effort to "boost" circulation, and does not intend to now, but they intend to put their publication into seventy-five per cent of the homes of Paducah and to do this purchased above scholarships to induce ambitious young men or women who want a business education to compete for these scholarships, which embrace any course you desire at the well known school you are to have your choice, and it is optional with you as to how soon after the contest closes when you enter the school.

FEW PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Committee Will Dash Hopes of Many Congressmen.

Washington, March 27.—If Representative Bartholdt, chairman of the house building committee, is a fair prophet, there'll be a building bill passed this year which will carry about $12,000,000. Mr. Bartholdt says he has between 950 and 1,000 bills in his desk, which, added together, call for more than $90,000,000. "We will put in only the vitally necessary projects," said Mr. Bartholdt, discussing the subject, "and as many of these are additions to buildings already erected or are structures for sites purchased in the past. The fellows with pet new buildings will be pretty likely to be left out in the cold."

"When the bill leaves our committee, it will carry just about $15,000,000. The senate will be likely to add a few millions to this, but owing to the state of financial affairs we cannot agree to a very large addition."
